EDUCATIONAL DVD

Blending form with function, the DVD "My Life, My Decision" uses realistic plotlines to entertain and educate youth (of color) about Emergency Contraception (also known as Plan B). Filmed in and around Harlem, the short film features six Black and Latino young adults trying to avoid unintended pregnancies in their own lives. After watching "My Life, My Decision," audience members should feel engaged, informed and interested in getting more information about reproductive health care services, including EC.
